Emine Yüzay: Rotarians change her life story

It's hard to believe that more than a year has passed since Interactive launched. We dedicate this issue to looking back at the progress made by the Rotarians and others we covered in some of our early issues. Our feature piece focuses on Emine Yüzay, a young woman whose tenacity to learn to read inspired Rotarians around the globe to help her overcome her disability. See how her story continued.

Fast facts about Interactive stories

- Since the New Year, New Beginnings issue, featuring "Firsthand Accounts of the Fight against Polio", Molly Williams' mother traveled back to Ethiopia on another immunization campaign.
- Since we featured "Rotarians Rebuild Hope in New Orleans", the Warren Easton school reopened. At the start of the fall 2007 term, the school had about 800 students, as well as additional faculty, all looking forward to another school year.
