

Council on Legislation photo gallery

Photos by Monika Lozinska-Lee
Rotary International News -- 29 April 2010

The Council on Legislation chair and vice chair, parliamentarian, and members of the Constitution and Bylaws Committee preside over the 2010 Council as it begins 26 April.

Vice Chair John Boag presides over the Council 26 April.

Representatives discuss proposed legislation during the Council deliberations 26 April.

Jean-Paul Robichon, of District 1710 (France), looks over proposed legislation. In the foreground are the cards that representatives use to indicate whether they are speaking for (green) or against (red) a measure, or on a point of procedure (yellow).

Each of Rotary's 531 districts sends a representative to the Council. Screens at the front of the chamber display the legislation being discussed and the item next up for consideration.

More than 200 proposed enactments and resolutions were submitted for consideration.

Representatives listen to the debate on a proposed item of legislation.

A representative makes a point during a discussion on proposed legislation. The green card indicates that he is speaking in favor of the proposal.

Foehd Salmen Hessain, of District 4310 (Brazil), uses an electronic device to cast his vote on proposed legislation.

A bank of monitors displays a speaker's remaining time (left), the current and next items up for discussion (center), and vote totals (right).

G.S. Bawa, of District 3070 (India), listens to a discussion on proposed legislation.

Representatives hold up green cards to indicate they are in favor of closing the debate on an item.